For Immediate Release KOMO MACHINE, INC.

KOMO launches new website – and it's all about our customers.

LAKEWOOD, NJ – July 11, 2016

In addition to celebrating another growth year in sales and their 50th anniversary, KOMO MACHINE, INC. is launching a brand new website. On July 11th, www.komo.com will be live with a whole new look!

"KOMO's brand positioning has always been about 'going beyond the machine' – along with a wealth of engineering and applications experience, we offer top-of-the-line customer service and provide resources that are unrivaled in the industry. In support of our commitment to our customers, the KOMO team created an overall superior website that delivers an informative and easy-to-use experience for our visitors", said Mike Kolibas, President of Komo Machine, Inc.

From the moment you enter www.komo.com, you know it is focused on its customers. The overall aesthetic is modern, visually appealing and easy to navigate. "In the CNC industry, in-depth product knowledge and technical support are vital to the KOMO experience. We are very pleased and confident that our new site provides this support to our customers", said Vice President of Sales & Service, Jeff Erickson.

Along with a pleasant user experience, KOMO has highlighted some other features such as a "What's New" section focused on new products and company announcements as well as a focus on training with "Product Videos" in its top navigation. These informative videos are a tremendous resource for product applications.

"We are grateful for our customers and promise to continue to deliver superior quality, excellent service and technical innovation that they've come to expect from us. We stay true to that promise with launching a website that reflects our commitment and dedication", said Mike Kolibas, President of Komo Machine, Inc.
